Section 35.03 Exception for New Building on Existing Developed Block

Where fifty percent or more of the lots in a recorded subdivision on the same side of the road as the lot in question are developed with less than the required road or front yard setbacks, the average setback of the two principal buildings nearest that lot shall be observed as the required minimum setback.

Section 35.04 Measuring Setbacks

- A. Corner lot side yard and street setbacks represent the minimum distance required between the nearest exterior finished wall of all structures and any adjacent street right-of-way line.
- B. Front, side, and rear setbacks represent the minimum distance required between the nearest exterior finished wall of all structures and the adjacent front, side, or rear property lines.
- C. Setbacks from the principal building represent the minimum distance required between the nearest exterior finished wall of an accessory building and the nearest exterior finished wall of the principal structure on the lot.

Section 35.05 Lot Frontage Requirements

- A. Unless otherwise provided, no principal and/or accessory building, structure, or use shall be erected, expanded, enlarged, increased, or initiated on any lot that does not abut a public street with a right-of-way in conformity with provisions within this Ordinance and the Subdivision Regulations.
- B. Single Family Exemption. A single-family dwelling may be constructed on a lot that does not abut a public street pursuant to exceptions permitted with the town's Subdivision Regulations. Otherwise, streets must meet the requirements of subsection "A" above.
- C. Planned Residential Development and Multi-Family Development Exemption. A permit for construction or use within any planned residential (unit) development or multifamily development may be allowed on a lot that does not abut directly on a public street, provided such development is platted pursuant to the access requirements of the Subdivision Ordinance and where the original development tract or lot met the minimum lot frontage requirement. If the internal streets are private, said streets shall be maintained by a homeowners association or a management agency.

A permit for construction or use within any planned business (unit) development may be allowed on a lot or tract that does not abut directly on a public street, provided such development is platted pursuant to the Subdivision Ordinance meeting private road standards, which are maintained by the property owner association. Section 35.06 Residential Accessory Structure and Building Standards

- A. The Table of Permissible Uses classifies different principle uses according to their different impacts. Whenever an activity (which may or may not be separately listed as a principal use in this table) is conducted in conjunction with another principal use and the former use constitutes only an incidental or insubstantial part of the total activity that takes place on a lot, or is commonly associated with the principal use and integrally related to it, then the former use may be regarded as accessory to the principal use and may be carried on underneath the umbrella of the permit issued for the principal use. For example, a swimming pool/tennis court complex is customarily associated with and integrally related to a residential subdivision or multifamily development and would be regarded as accessory to such principal uses, even though such facilities, if developed apart from a residential development, would require a zoning permit.

B. Residential detached accessory.

1. May be located only in the rear yard, not in any side or front yard.
2. Setbacks; rear and side yards.

4. The height shall not exceed the height of the existing principal building or district maximum height whichever is less.
5. The total building footprint area of all accessory buildings on the lot shall be no greater than eighty (80) percent of the gross floor area of the principal building.

C. Residential attached accessory.
